I want to get my uncirculated 1799 cent photographed - life size - I want the very best possible copy made - but don't know a photographer with the artistic skill - want it for Mr. Geo. Clapp's book on 1798 Cents - he will cover the 1799 issue as well -
Can you tell me who can do it for me - I don't wish the set to go out of my possession

Yours
H. C. Hines

Dear Mr. Hines:

We pride ourselves on taking the best photographs of coins done in recent years, so we should be pleased to be of assistance if you so wish. If you would care to bring the coin here some day, letting us know a couple of days in advance, we can photograph it while you wait. The best time, on account of the light, is about ten o'clock in the morning. If you would like to have one or two other coins included of about the same color, that could easily be done.

Sincerely yours,

Curator.

My
Dear How.

Because the weather seem'd so poor for photo's that famous Cent today, I did not show up but hope for a good one next

Dear Mr. Hines:

We are not satisfied with the result of the photographs that we made of your cent, due, we think, largely to the smoke in the room. We should really like to do these over and as you probably are coming to our opening on Thursday, could you not come early, say about two o'clock, and bring your coins so that we could take another shot at them. I am enclosing two of the photographs and you will see that they are not what they should be.

Sincerely yours,

Curator.

Dear Mr. Hines:

The enclosed prints of your cent are the best we can do considering the color of the coin.

Dear Mr. Wood

I have recently acquired a new "Jefferson Head" 1795 Cent of same as the one common to all - except it has a heavy strong milling - has letter's edge & the Rev entirely different - I have a memo taken from a Haseltine's Dec Nov 16. '69 catalogue a certain Jefferson Head 1795 Cent! Cat 538 brown 145. & referring in its description to the same be being sold at Randall's Dec 18. '69 @ 141. Have you that catalogue if so wont you look at it & send me whatever description is given of the Cent - I sent this post to Newcomb who has photo'd it together with the other & common specimens - I visited

Phila recently + spent - with Mr Wallster several hours at the Historical Society going over the Newspapers (Phila) 1794 + 5 - but never found a mention of the trial

Yours very sincerely

Randall Sale. Lot 287 bought by J W Hamilton for 141 ⁰⁰

1795 Randall's Celebrated Jefferson Head this is the finest cent of this variety known to exist in any cabinet; in very fine condition, bearing the slightest marks of circulation; olive color; one of the most beautifully designed of the American series; and the rarest of all cents without exception

July 7, 1932.

Dear Mr. Hines:

I have looked up the reference in the Randall sale. It is lot 287 and was bought by J. W. Haseltine for $141.00. The description is as follows:

"1795 Randall's celebrated Jefferson Head. This is the finest cent of this variety known to exist in any cabinet; in very fine condition, bearing the slightest marks of circulation; olive color; one of the most beautifully designed of the American series; and the rarest of all cents without exception."

From this you will see he does not describe the reverse in any way so you are no better off than you were before.

In the Haseltine sale of which you have a note it does not give any better description except he mentions it is of olive color.

Very truly yours,

HW:JG
